

THE F.A.'s CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

"Children develop in different ways and at different rates. They all react differently in any given situation. At Southeast Football, we attempt to give all the young people who play soccer a good and worthwhile experience. Their relationships with all the adults, at both matches and training, must always be positive, sporting and of the highest standard. Every one of us has a duty to set the best example possible for all the young people under our instruction."
(Unknown).

Southeast Football has adopted the F.A Child Protection Policy.

All visiting football clubs should be aware of this.

If any person is found verbally or physically abusing any child, we as a Club will have no hesitation in reporting the incident to the Football Association's Child Protection Officer.

Children up to the age of 18 are protected by this policy.

We are specifically drawing your attention to young referees. Please give them your every support. The Club has become aware of an increase in offensive and abusive language, both on and off the field of play. The Club will issue the following instruction to referees:

"If a player swears, firstly warn player about his or her language. If he or she swears again, the referee will ask the manager to substitute the offending player."

Parents and spectators are asked to positively encourage all young players and referees and to promote this policy amongst all those connected with the Club.

Any supporter found abusing the players or referees will be asked to leave the area.

Southeast Football. Is fully committed to the requirements of the F.A Child Protection Policy and have appointed an independent person, in accordance with the Policy, to act as an arbiter and first line of approach for any persons who may have cause for complaint as specified.

The F.A Child Protection Policy

Every child and young person who plays football shall be able to participate in an enjoyable and safe environment and be protected from abuse. We recognise, however, that child abuse is a very emotive and difficult subject. It is important to understand the feelings involved but not to allow them to interfere with our judgment about any action to take.

The Football Association recognises its responsibility to safeguard the welfare of all children and young people by protecting them from physical or emotional harm and from neglect and bullying. It is determined to meet its obligation to ensure that those clubs and organisations providing footballing opportunities for children and young people do so, to the highest possible standard of care.

Clear practices and procedures, in addition to a detailed training programme already underway, will ensure that everyone knows exactly what is expected of them in relation to the protection of children and young people within our sport. It is essential that those children and young people attracted to and participating in football are able to do so in a quality, safe and enjoyable environment. In striving to attain this, The Football Association has the Following Objectives:

A requirement that the FA Premier League and the Football League include in their rules a policy statement concerning child protection. A requirement that all bodies affiliated to the Football Association as Charter Standards Organisations, affiliated through the County Associations, which provide the opportunity to work with young people and children up to the age of 18, include in their rules a policy statement concerning child protection.

To provide ongoing development and training opportunities to all organisations as mentioned above.

To provide ongoing development and training opportunities for members of the FA Coaches Association as an integral part of all FA Coach and Medical Education courses and courses for referees in staff development courses for members of the FA Premier League and the Football League through the County Football Association structure and through the process of attaining and maintaining the Charter Standard Award

To develop a positive and pro-active position in order to protect all children and young people who play football enabling them to play in a safe environment;

To deliver quality assured child protection training and build a network of tutors to facilitate this delivery, in conjunction with, and supported by, the NSPCC;

To demonstrate best practice in the area of child protection;

To promote ethics and high standards throughout football

The key principles underpinning this policy are that :

The child's welfare is, and always must be, the paramount consideration;

All children and young people have a right to be protected from abuse, regardless of their age, gender, disability, culture, language, racial origin, religious beliefs or sexual identity;

All suspicions of abuse will be taken seriously and responded to swiftly and appropriately working in partnership with children and young people and their parents/careers is essential. Social Services Depts have a statutory responsibility to ensure the welfare of children & young people;

The FA is committed to working together with Social Services Depts and local Child Protection Committees (ACPC) in accordance with their procedures.

The FA's Regulations on child protection as defined in the FA Handbook

CONCLUSION

The FA, through confirming this Policy document, has indicated its determination to ensure that children and young people can participate in all forms of football activity with their safety being of paramount importance. It is essential that this document is representative of a process of continual improvement in the area of child protection within football. It is for all adults engaged in football activities to promote good practice and procedures whilst being ever vigilant and aware of their responsibilities towards the children and young people in their care.
